12. Overtime and time-off-in-lieu

- 12.1 Time-off-in-lieu (TOIL)

TOIL arrangements occur when an employee is requested to work additional

12.2 Overtime

Employees occupying positions at or below 300 work value points may be granted approval in advance to work overtime by the Chief Executive Officer, where the Chief Executive Officer is satisfied a particular task cannot be completed within ordinary hours of work.

13.1.2 Salary is reviewed annually based upon consideration of performance review outcomes, within the range of plus 20% to minus 10% of the nominal salary of the employee's position. Any applicable allowances will be additional.

13.1.3 Changes in remuneration shall be determined by the Chief Executive Officer having regard to factors including:

- the extent to which the employee has exceeded performance indicators or performance expectations.

13.2 Remuneration on commencement of employment

13.2.1 Upon commencement of employment, an employee's salary will be set by the Chief Executive Officer at a level within the relevant band as specified in Appendix 1 based upon work value points for the employee's position and within a range of plus 20% to minus 10% of the nominal salary for the employee's position.

13.2.2 Despite clause 13.2.1 above, during any probationary period, an employee's remuneration would be expected to be set at no higher than at the plus 10% point of the nominal salary for the employee's position.

13.2.3 Where an employee has commenced employment at below the nominal salary level for the position, it is expected that their salary would be adjusted to the nominal level within 2 years of commencement subject to meeting performance requirements.
